Both Hindu and Buddhist followers visit the deity with the utmost devotion. Pathivara is a female deity, as "Mata" means goddess in Nepali. Like any other religious site in Nepal, Pathivara has been able to garner the attention of pilgrims.

With dreams of fulfilling their wishes, people from all over Nepal make a trip to Pathivara. Since the deity is female, it represents female power and thus has a special place in the hearts of Nepalese. People visit the temple in anticipation of getting their long-awaited dreams and wishes fulfilled. Besides the religious purpose, Pathivara Temple serves the majestic sights of landscapes, valleys, hills, rivers, and the glorious views of Mount Kanchenjunga, which is the third-highest mountain in the world.

Many places in Nepal have established quite a few religious sites. After Muktinath, Manakamana, Lumbini, Pashupatinath, Swayambhunath, and many other sacred places, Pathivara is one of the most frequently visited Hindu temples in Nepal.
